

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOSTING YOUR OWN TRIVIA WITH BUDDS TRIVIA NIGHT

Howdy! And thanks for purchasing an at home Trivia With Budds trivia night to play with friends, family or by yourself! Included in this packet is everything you'll need to have a blast answering some unique trivia questions on topics of your choice.

CONTENTS:

- Instruction Sheet (this thing!)
- 5 rounds of 54 questions total in written form
- 1 worksheet bonus round
- Answer sheets for four teams (and some extras)
- Scoreboard to keep track of winning teams
- An answer key for each round after each round

HOW TO PLAY:

1. Assemble your group into even teams. You can use all four sets of answer sheets for 4 complete teams, or use scratch paper if you have more teams playing. All answer sheets need to have space to write down 11 answers for each round.

2. Start the first round! Go in the recommended order for a nice build of questions. Pick one person to read the questions off the question sheet at a pace that works for everyone. Do repeats if necessary. All teams will write down the answers to the questions at the same time, with no use of phones or yelling out answers.

3. After all the questions have been read, collect the answer sheets and score them up using the answer key for that round. Record the scores in Round 1 score box after each team name. Use a pencil for quick fixes and changing the total box as you go along. Every question is worth one point, except the bonus question at the end of each round is worth two points. Each team can double up one of the first four rounds, so everything they get right is worth two points instead of one. It's not double or nothing, it's just whatever they get right is doubled. So if they got 8 things right on round one, they'd get 16pts instead of 8. Teams can only use the doubler once, and they can use it after they've written down their answers and before they turn in the sheet to the host.

4. After all scores have been recorded, announce the answers to the questions for the first round. Then announce the team names and scores for that round. Then repeat! Here's how your night will look structure wise:

ROUND 3

BONUS ROUND WORKSHEET

ROUND 5-CONFIDENCE ROUND

5. Worksheets will have specific instructions at the top of the page and have a 10 minute time limit. Teams all receive copies of the worksheet at the same time, face down, and flip them over and start at the same time while keeping a timer going for the 10 mins. Whichever team finishes first AND has them all correct gets 7pts. All other teams who finish the worksheet correctly within the time limit get 5 points. If one question's answer is wrong on the entire sheet, the team gets no points.

6. The Confidence Round works like this: teams write down all their answers, then they go back and rank them based on how confident they are in the answers being correct. You'll see the ranking boxes at the end of each answer line on the answer sheets. 10 is the highest you can give something, and 1 is the lowest, and you have to use each number one time in the ranking process. If you definitely know an answer, give it a 10 to get the most points (10). If you don't know an answer at all, give it something low like a 1, 2, or 3. Whatever you write next to it is how many points you'll get if it's right for a max of 55pts. Teams can't double up this round.

7. After all the rounds are complete, go over the last round's answers and reveal the winning team on the score board. Provide prizes for the top three teams like gag gifts, trophies, and anything unique and fun you can think of. Thanks for playing! Cheers!

EXTRA IDEAS:

- Use a small or large white board to display scores (and even questions if you feel like rewriting!)
- Theme decorations, prizes, and snacks/food to the event. If it's all 90s trivia, get radical. If it's all Harry Potter rounds, get magical.
- Feel free to change/alter questions as you see fit, as long as you know the answers to your changes! Remix this content in any way you see fit for numerous parties. And feel free to share with a friend.
